This is true so far as tieneral Logan is personally concerned, but it would be about correct to say that nine-tenths of the republican papers of the country condemn his judgment in not going into an investigation of the rascality and corruption by which Henry B. Mrs. Irons, of Iowa.

We learn, from the Lebanon (O.) Gazette, that a Mrs. R. B. Irons, of Iowa, one of the Christian temperance women of her state, being in Lebanon, the other day, was invited to speak at a partisan prohibition neeting that was in session at the time, and The GLOBE-REPUBLIC prints the New York and Western Associated Press Dispatches and the that she responded promptly. Mrs. Irons. Reuter Cable (Foreign) Telegrams. the Grazette explains, has always been "a cealous friend of temperance, but since the brutal murder of her husband by an lowa iquor seller she has especially consecrated herself to the battle against the saloons." We infer, therefore, that Mrs. Irons is a true and earnest temperance woman and not one of those wicked Methodist persons, who go about doing temperatice work and getting inebriates to quit drinking and beome Christians for the ungodly purpose of building up the republican party. What Mrs. Irons said, therefore, on this occasion, will be considered as truthful and important evidence on a question now before the people. Out of her full heart she respectfully but most carnestly stated that she was ntterly unable to see what good could come to the temperance cause by a third political party. She declared that in Iowa, where the cause she has at heart, has recently made such rapid progress, all that was benficial in legislation on this subject had come rom the republican party, and that she looks to that party, so far as political agencles are concerned, to carry on the good work in that state.

As between Keiler and Kennedy, the latter has the buige on Champaign county and will have about two-thirds of that delegation, providing that Champaign does not present a candidate of her own. That county has a brilliant young states man, who would make his mark if he were sent to congress. We refer to deorge Eichelberger, lie is a prominent attorney and an aggressive republican. Judge Warnock, of Urbana, is also mentioned, and it tendered the nomination, would be too modest to decline. Champaign has not furnished a representative since the days of Mose Corwin, and there is a prevailing sentiment there that the honor should fall outside of both Clark and Logan. Their delegation will, no doubt, so to Springfield. Any IT, determined to stand by Eichelberger. Of Madison county the Times says: Of Madison county the Times says: There is quite a sprinkling of Kennedy men throughout the county, but not enough to con-rol the election of delegates in any township, to this county will be solld for Keifer, unless t can unite upon a home man.

The Times, however, very naturally preers a Madison county man, if the delegaion can unite in presenting one.
